

Best Spam Filter Ranking Given To Audiotrieve's InBoxer in Sixth Consecutive Review

BOXBOROUGH, Mass. – (BUSINESSWIRE) – April 12, 2003 – The InBoxer anti-spam filter, winner of every competitive review in which it was compared, was just named winner in a new competitive review dated April 2004 by "l'Ordinateur individuel", a leading French personal computer monthly magazine. This is the seventh consecutive highest rating from major publications:

- Recommandé, l'Ordinateur individuel
- Best on Test, ComputerActive
- Editor's Choice, Personal Computer World
- Best Buy, Personal Computer World
- Gold, PC Advisor
- 6 Stars, PC Pro
- 4 Envelopes, Spamotomy

L'Ordinateur individuel described InBoxer as "fearsomely effective (il s'avère redoutablement efficace)" and "the most effective (c'est l'un des plus performants)." InBoxer was compared favorably against McAfee SpamKiller, Spamanihilator, SpamPal, Cloudmark's SpamNet, SpamEater, SAproxypro and FireTrust's MailWasher Pro.

InBoxer requires Microsoft Windows and Microsoft Outlook. A 21 day free trial is available immediately from <http://www.inboxer.com>. The product has a list price of $27.95.

About InBoxer and Audiotrieve

The award-winning InBoxer email filter (<http://www.inboxer.com>) uses advanced language technology, including Bayesian techniques, to sort and filter electronic communications. InBoxer is well-known as a highly effective desktop Outlook spam filter. However, custom filters based on InBoxer technology may be adapted to solve other email filtering problems, Audiotrieve, LLC (www.audiotrieve.com) creates products and services that sort, index and retrieve information that cannot be found easily using traditional means, including services that enable companies to find the right content from within an audio or video stream. INBOXER is a trademark and AUDIOTRIEVE is a service mark of Audiotrieve, LLC. All other marks are property of their respective owners.
